

Drive better business outcomes

Proactively planning and executing a data strategy can dramatically lower costs, mitigate discovery disputes, and allow your legal team to focus on substantive issues and strategy.

As a litigator-led company, we have seen firsthand the pitfalls of not beginning with the end in mind. From data creation through defensible disposition, we can help you navigate the choppy waters of litigation, investigations, and regulatory actions.

Big data shouldn't mean big problems

Here are some ways we can support your team:

Data retention and disposition policies: information governance policies in compliance with state and federal regulations to minimize costs regarding data collection, processing, hosting, and review.

Legal hold management: legal hold notices and manage the program during ongoing disputes, including initial notifications, acknowledgement, reminders, and release.

Meet and confer process: FRCP 26(f) process to determine proportionality/best production methods.

Discovery motion drafting: navigate case law and make targeted requests with the aim of minimizing subsequent objections and "discovery about discovery".

Custodian surveys and interviews: minimize eDiscovery cost with reduced data volume/custodians.

Expert testimony: for any phase of the EDRM in state and federal court.

eDiscovery counsel: when the complexity or demands of a matter require additional support, engage with us as eDiscovery counsel through our relationship with Mattingly Burke Cohen & Biederman, LLP.
